KIRKLAND, Wash. (December 13, 2017) — Situated in the heart of downtown Kirkland, The Heathman Hotel has renovated its 91 guestrooms and suites in a multimillion-dollar project. The renovation provides a fresh, modern aesthetic along with furnishings designed to reflect the hotel’s Pacific Northwest inspiration.

“We’re thrilled to unveil a new look and feel at The Heathman that allows us to continue offering exceptional guest experiences,” said John Oppenheimer, CEO of Columbia Hospitality, which manages The Heathman Hotel. “We’ve seen tremendous growth in and around Kirkland—new shopping, dining and recreation within walking distance—and we’re excited to establish The Heathman as the top boutique hotel in the heart of this vibrant waterfront neighborhood.”

Conceived by Interior Design International Inc., the new design visually celebrates the city of Kirkland while embracing its history. Natural woven textiles pay tribute to Kirkland as the location of the first woolen mill in the state, which helped fuel the city’s early economic success during the Klondike Gold Rush and World War I. Soothing, rich colors are paired with warm walnut tones that embody the region, and custom digital collages make a bold statement in every guestroom. Each guest floor features a distinctive theme, with dramatic layers that showcase the region's scenery and beautiful surroundings, from the waters and lowlands of Puget Sound to majestic mountain vistas and boundless skies.

To ensure that guests can easily stay connected, all guestrooms include modern and convenient features, like a media hub and complimentary high-speed Wi-Fi, along with existing offerings such as the Heathman Signature Bed Menu, from which visitors can select from three bed types: European Featherbed, European Pillow Top or Tempur-Pedic.

The renovation also includes a variety of luxury suites with signature themes, including the Gallery Suites, the Terrace Suites and the artfully sophisticated Heathman Suite, an ideal space for relaxing and entertaining that includes rich wood tones, dramatic granite, and warm copper and golds, with custom art as the focal point. Suites feature dual-sided fireplaces and spacious living rooms.

The Heathman Hotel boasts 4,555 square feet of meeting and event spaces that accommodate up to 200 guests, and it is home to the locally inspired Trellis Restaurant. Led by newly appointed executive chef Benjamin Closson, Trellis features innovative menus showcasing the bounty of the region through fresh and sustainable ingredients that change with the seasons. Chef Closson's leadership has resulted in a refreshed dining experience at Trellis, through revamped menus and dynamic catering and event options.
